

Project overview...

Creating a space from recycled materials that connects children to the natural world that promote moderate physical activity and positive mental health.

Mullaway Public School Innovation Fund in action...

The Wellbeing playground is finished, and what a playground it is?! The children were actively involved in it's creation, with each classroom tasked with choosing a creative and imaginative theme for a recycled 'electric cable reel'.

The project coordinator is currently gathering qualitative data on playground usage by the children.
